

Exploratory Testing of a Web Form For User Profile Creation

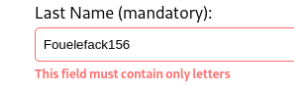

The aim of this report is to outline how the user profile creation process on <https://playwright-lab.web.app/> validates various user inputs and handles errors effectively.

- Test cases

The test cases are organized in a table format, which can be used to track what was tested, expected behavior, actual behavior, and the results of the test given by a screenshot. The exploratory test cases outlined in the table below were performed using two browsers, Chromium 120.0.6099.224 and Mozilla Firefox 128.3.1esr, both in incognito mode, to verify the proper functionality of the web form.
